CONTENTS

INTRODUCTION ix

I. Suárez: the Man, his Career and Work ix

II. The Disputationes Metaphysicae xi

III. A Summary of Disputation 28 xiv

IV. A Summary of Disputation 29 xv

V. Some Influence of Suárez xviii

VI. Translator's Remarks xxii

THE TEXT OF SUAREZ

I. Disputation 28: ON THE DIVISION OF BEING INTO INFINITE AND FINITE 1

Section 1. Whether Being Is Correctly Divided into Infinite and Finite, and What Divisions Are Equivalent to This. 2

Section 2. Whether Being Is Sufficiently and Adequately Divided by Finite and Infinite, and Other Equivalent Members. 18
Section 3. Whether the Aforesaid Division Is Univocal or Analogous.
   The First Opinion: The Division Is Equivocal. 29

II. Disputation 29: WHETHER THERE IS A FIRST AND UNCREATED BEING. 51

Section 1. Whether It Can Be Demonstrated – either by a Physical or Metaphysical Argument – that an Uncreated Being Exists. 52

Section 2. Whether It Can Be Demonstrated A Posteriori that God Exists by Showing that There is Only One Uncreated Being. 81

Section 3. Whether in Some Way It Can Be Demonstrated A Priori that God Exists. 113

DRAMATIS PERSONAE 145

BIBLIOGRAPHY 151

INDEX OF NAMES 165

SUBJECT INDEX 168