Contents

Foreword vii
I. The Two Eyes of Spinoza 1
II. Spinoza: A Metaphysics of Suicide or of Survival? 16
III. Pierre Bayle and the Critique of Spinoza’s Metaphysics of Substance 27
IV. Dutch Seventeenth-Century Non-Denominationalism and Religio Rationalis: Mennonites, Collegiants and the Spinoza Connection 43
V. The Mystical Heresy and the Rationalist Heresy in Dutch Calvinism at the End of the Seventeenth Century 84
VI. The Tragic Career of Uriel da Costa 95
VII. Pierre Gassendi: Christian, Materialist, Skeptic 103
VIII. The Philosophical Role of the Reformation: Martin Luther and the Origins of Subjectivity 143
IX. Richard Avenarius and the Apparent Suicide of Philosophy 161
X. Karl Marx and the Classical Definition of Truth 173
XI. Althusser’s Marx 196
THE TWO EYES OF SPINOZA AND OTHER ESSAYS ON PHILOSOPHERS

XII. A Comment on Heidegger’s Comment on Nietzsche’s Alleged Comment on Hegel’s Comment on the Power of Negativity 214

XIII. The Epistemology of Striptease 222

XIV. The Priest and the Jester: Reflections on the Theological Heritage of Contemporary Thought 239

XV. Heresy 263

XVI. The Libertine 289

Bibliographical Notes 303

Bibliography of Leszek Kolakowski’s Writings 306

Leszek Kolakowski 310